

MAKING THE FUTURE

Faces of Suffrage: Different Points of View

How did different social groups respond to women's suffrage?

Society was divided over women's suffrage. There were men and women who supported the call for women's suffrage and were active in the women's movement as suffragists or suffragettes.

There were those who opposed it and who may have been active in the anti-suffrage activities. There was also what has been called 'the silent majority' those for whom women's suffrage was not an issue often because it was not relevant to their needs.

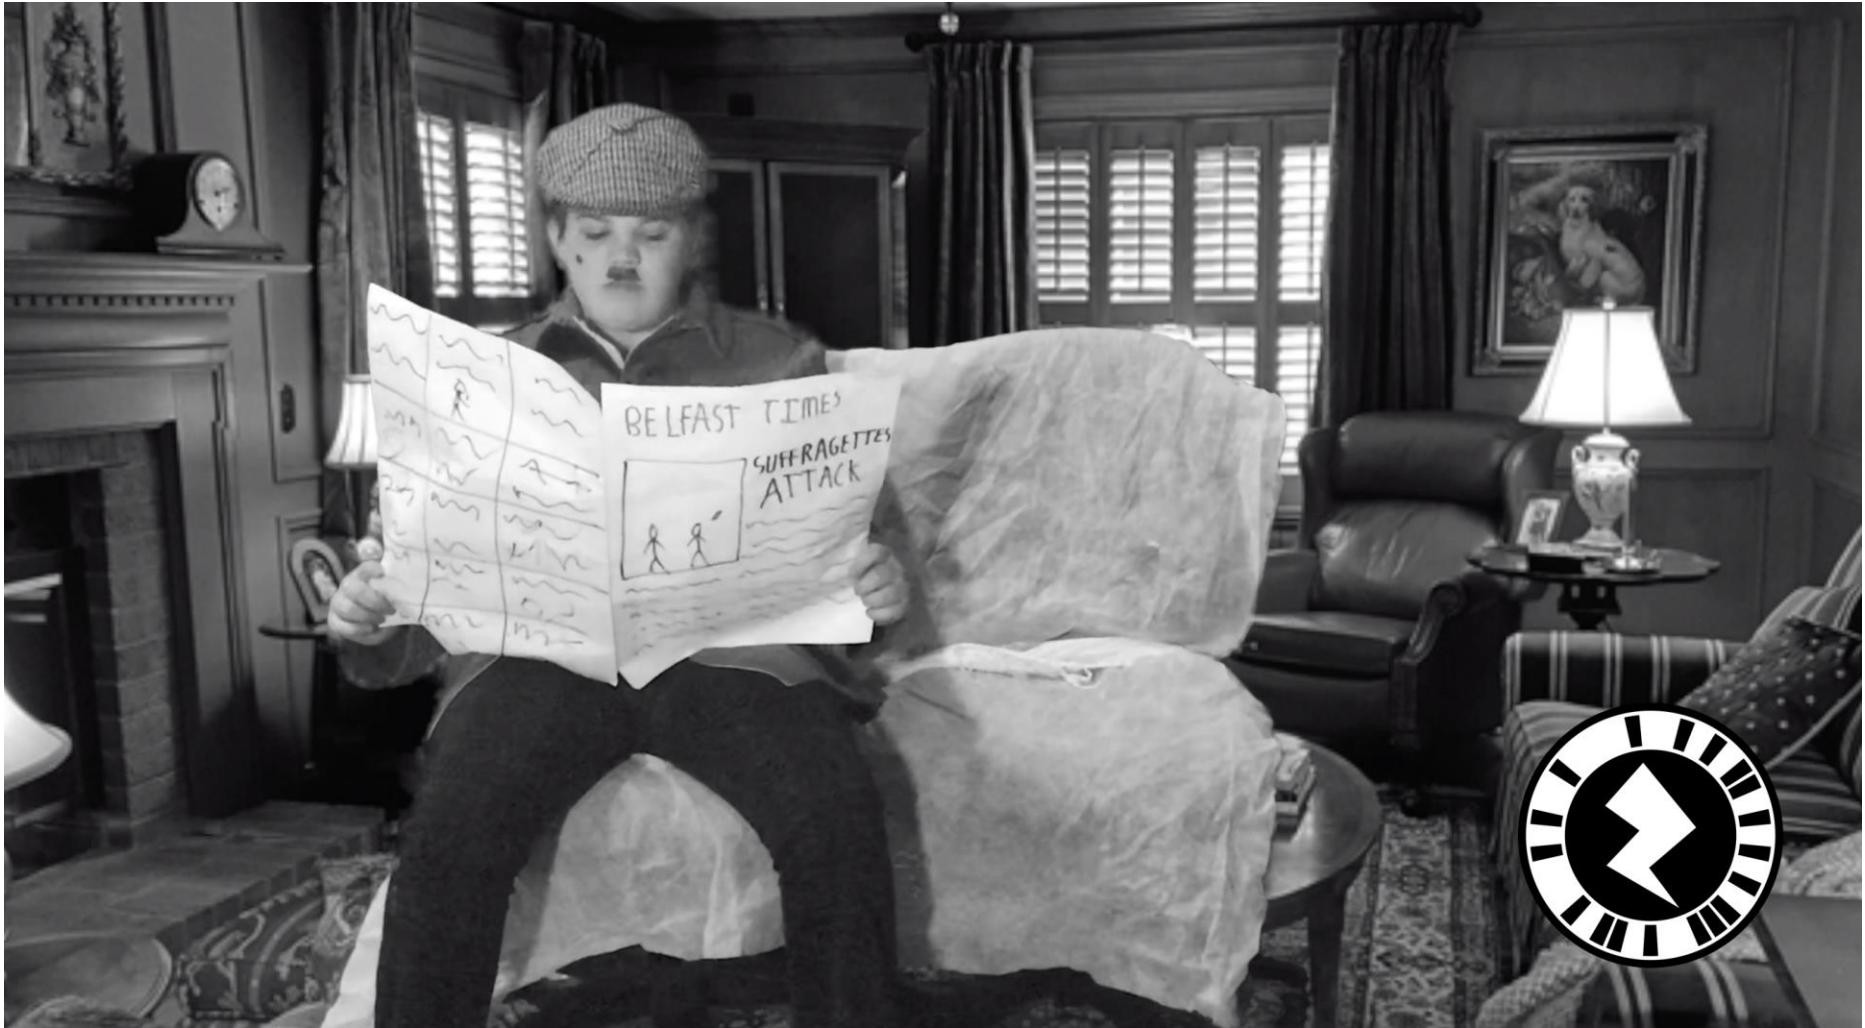

The films were made during the Women in the Archives VR Filmmaking programme. Facilitators: Laura Aguiar; Lynsey Gillespie; Niall Kerr; Jude Mullan; and Paul Sandy.

Women in the Archives is one of the strands of Making the Future and is supported by the European Union's PEACE IV Programme, managed by the Special EU Programmes Body (SEUPB).

Suffragist & Suffragette

Men: For & Against

Women: For & Against

